ALL SET FOR THE BIG BATTLE

Cameron fight fans are on edge today. Radio workers have been busy for several days getting the sets in order for the big heavyweight fight in Chicago tonight. Jack Dempsey rules the favorite although locally champion Gene Tunney has a large following with hopes that he will retain his title. On the other hand the former champion has so fired the imagination with his colorful career that they are pulling for Jack. A number of radio parties are in progress tonight for the big fight.

Big times are ahead. Wichita Falls won the first game in the Divie Series Wednesday; the Aggies play their first game Saturday; the World Series starts October 4 and the football season opens in a few days, Cameron playing with Bartlett on Friday.

Sale at Levy's Will Begin Saturday 24th

The big sale at Levy's to run for 20 days only will begin Saturday morning. In this sale Mr. Levy has given great values in merchandise.

It will be of interest to the people to read the two page announcement in this issue of The Herald and also the circulars printed from it. "We are giving these prices in the face of advancing merchandise," says Mr. Levy. The store has been filled with merchandise for the fall trade and especially for this sale will many shipments be found.

Mr. Levy as manager of the store has reinstated furnishings for men and boys in all new stock.

Confederate Veterans To Meet Here Saturday

M. W. Mitchell announces that a meeting of the local camp of Confederate Veterans will be held in the District Court room here Saturday at 2 p. m.

The camp will elect officers for the ensuing year and will name delegates to the reunion to be held in Little Rock, Arkansas on October 6 and 7.

The gray line of patriots are fast thinning and the reunion will bring them together for what is to be one of the few remaining conventions to be held by them.

Wirt Terry Sells His Interest in Paper At Thorndale

Wirt Terry part owner of the Thorndale Champion has sold his interests to Mr. Norris, his partner. Mr. Terry plans to engage in the newspaper business elsewhere but will remain in Thorndale for a few weeks.

The many friends of Mr. Terry will be interested in his success wherever he may go to engage in business. The Champion is a good paper and the men have made a success of it.

LADIES FURNISHINGS STORE TO OPEN HERE

W. F. SCOTT OF CALVERT, WELL KNOWN HERE TO OPEN BUSINESS IN CAMERON

Cameron is soon to have an exclusive ladies furnishing goods store to be opened in the Sampson building formerly occupied by the Cameron Water Company.

The business is owned and will be vert, well known business man who for many years was a traveling salesman and has sold merchandise to years prior to his retirement from the Cameron business firms for many traveling position to enter business for himself in Calvert. Mr. Scott now owns a prosperous business in Calvert.

Mr. Scott was in Cameron Thursday supervising details for the remodeling of the building here. He will move to Cameron next week and will have the business ready for the trade by that time.

Already a large consignment of goods have been purchased for the opening of the new business. Mr. Scott will receive the first shipment sometime this week.

"I feel at home in Cameron," said Mr. Scott "because for a number of years I sold merchandise to Cameron business men and in that way come to know the business men as well as the citizens here and I look forward with pleasure to my location in Cameron."

CITY IS READY TO START STREET PAVING PROGRAM

PAVING DEMAND MET AT COUNCIL MEETING

PROPERTY OWNERS ASKED TO PLEDGE THEIR STREETS SO WORK CAN START

Preliminary legislation was passed at the meeting of the city council on Tuesday night as the first step in the final plans for street topping in Cameron.

The resolution declaring the necessity for street improvement as drawn by City Attorney Webb together with the ordinance naming the streets of the city were passed without a negative vote and the co-operation of the property owners is all that remains to assure the program.

The ordinance names every major street in Cameron leading off with the streets leading to the city limits on all highways entering the city.

160 Blocks
The area covered is 160 blocks and the ultimate cost of the entire program authorized will be about $45,000 two thirds of which is to be paid by the property owners and one third by the city making the treasury obligation $15,000.

The city's part will be paid within two years without an increase in taxes or in valuations.

The plans for paving necessitates a departure from the announced program of the city not to make any major expenditures until 1928 at which time all possible outstanding obligations will have been paid. But the increased traffic in the city has rendered the street department ineffective to maintain the streets so that it has become necessary to make permanent improvements.

Area Is Described
The area is described as follows: Beginning at the Magnolia filling station and north on the Maysfield road to the Pink Lester home and city limits; beginning at the Baptist church and going north to connect with the Waco road; east from the ice plant to connect with the Rockdale road; west from the R. L. Batte Gin No. 2 to connect with the Buckholts road which is to be topped also; beginning at the Beard filling station and going east to the B. F. Bonds home, thence south to the E. A. Flinn home, then west to connect with the Maysfield road at the J. D. Dobbins home; beginning at the R. E. Sharpe home and west to the B. J. Baskin home connecting with the Maysfield road; beginning at the Mrs. Bigbee home and going north to the Sam McDermott home; beginning at the post office and going north to the R. S. Wiley home; beginning at the Methodist church and going north to the Sul McCown filling station.

The program then provides for the street going west from the Baptist church to the Yarellon road, then from the Ray Burke home south to the Pitts filling station running in front of the Catholic church. The remainder of the program takes up all intersecting streets running east and west from west of Crockett to connect with the Maysfield road and from the J. T. Parma store south across the Santa Fe to the Tracy road. Other streets not here named are included in the area.

Co-operation Asked
The council hopes that a 100 per cent co-operation can be had so this major program can be completed.

It is the plan to top the principal highway streets first and as soon as the property owners on the several streets named present petitions showing their willingness to co-operate the program will be extended.

W. D. Bigbee has been retained as engineer and will have before the council on Friday night specifications on which the council can ask for bids.

The type of topping is to be inverted penetration, two coats both 90 per cent refined asphalt with a mixture of limestone giving state specifications.

Cost Is Light
Based on preliminary estimates made by A. F. Mitchell before leaving for France and concurred in by Mr. Bigbee the cost will not exceed $250 per block. Of this amount, counting four property owners to the block, the property owner would have to pay not to exceed $50. Under a new statute passed by the legislature the property owners may have 5 years in which to pay at 8 per cent interest, necessitating only $10 per year, but may pay all or a portion as

NOTED SCHOOL LEADERS HERE FOR MEETING OF MILAM COUNTY TEACHERS INSTITUTE

Final details for the Milam County Teachers' Institute to be held at the Yoe High School in Cameron September 29th and 30th, have been completed by Superintendent Kathryn K. Robbins.

Daily sessions will begin at 8:30 A. M. and close at 3:00 P. M. Lunch will be served in the cafeteria at the Ada Henderson School from 12:00 to 1:00 daily.

Some fine talent has been secured for the two days' program. Dean W. S. Allen of Baylor University will deliver two inspirational addresses at the general sessions which begin at 8:30 o'clock each morning. Hon. W. A. Morrison, chairman of the County Board of Education will deliver an address on Thursday. Mr. W. L. Hughes, Professor of Rural Education of Texas A. & M. College will be in charge of the Rural section. Miss Louise Martin of Baylor University will lecture on Art. Miss Martin has just returned from a European tour and her lectures at this time will be especially interesting and instructive.

Mrs. Noyes Smith, State President of the Parent-Teacher Association, will speak at the general session Friday morning at nine o'clock. All women of the county who are interested in the work of the Parent-Teacher Association are cordially invited and urged to hear this address. Miss Irene Prewitt of Austin will give demonstrations of methods in teaching hand writing. Miss Jeanie Pinckney of the Department of Health and Nutrition of the University of Texas will lecture on health. Mr. R. T. Ellis, Secretary of Texas State Teachers Association, will address the Institute. L. W. Rogers, Assistant State Superintendent is expected to be present.

Supt. S. P. Conn of the Rockdale school and Supt. T. A. Fisher of the Cameron schools will have charge of the high school section.

Complete programs will be mailed out this week to teachers of the county. The public is cordially invited to attend the general sessions and to hear the special addresses.

The Business and Professional Women's Club of Cameron will entertain all the Teachers of the County at the Country Club from 7:30 to 10:00 o'clock Thursday evening. Miss Mary Lake Henderson of Cameron is chairman of this committee and a most enjoyable evening will be spent by all who attend. Teachers who expect to be present Thursday evening are requested to notify Miss Willyne Hyde, Cameron, Vice-President of the club, not later than Thursday noon, September 29th.

COMMERCIAL CLUB TO ELECT MONDAY NIGHT

PROGRAM AND BANQUET PLANNED FOR SEMI-ANNUAL MEETING

The Commercial Club will hold its semi-annual meeting on Monday night at which time election of officers and directors for the ensuing period will be held.

J. W. Coleman who has been serving in this capacity will retire from the office.

Ticket sales are now being made for the banquet. A large crowd is assured. Secretary Webb is to be toastmaster and has secured a speaker for the event.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Newton went to College Station Sunday to enter their son, Oliver in A & M. Oliver was a 1927 graduate from Yoe Hi.

soon as the work is completed. The ordinance makes provision for this also.

Specifications will be ready on Friday night. In accordance with the constitution property owners will be given notice to appear and after this provision has been met the work will proceed. It will require about three weeks to meet all requirements of the law before the work begins.

The city will advertise for bids and already a number of contractors have signified their willingness to compete. The council has met the insistent demand of the people for better streets and now the city council asks that citizens interest themselves at once to sign up their streets. The first streets to sign up will be the first to be paved. Let everyone take an interest.

CAMERON TO GET RODEO OCTOBER 20, 21 AND 22

H. M. AKERS BOOKS COLORFUL WILD WEST PROGRAM FOR THIS CITY

The days of the rodeo have returned with their colorful programs of far western life and the life of the cowboy and open range.

H. M. Akers who managed the rodeo for the American Legion in 1925 has booked a rodeo for October 20, 21 and 22.

The rodeo will be held under the auspices of the American Legion but is being staged on the responsibility of Mr. Akers who is an experienced rodeo manager.

The famous George Koy string of rodeo stock recently enlarged to include some of the noted outlaw horses and Brahma steers of the southwest has been engaged for the entertainment.

In addition a string of shows have been engaged to entertain.

The rodeo will be held on the Lawless Green field. Tickets will be sold in advance and the show is to be well advertised so that Cameron is looking for one of the largest three day crowds in its history.

The famous Red Tate Bull will be here again and $100 is offered to anyone who will ride him contest rules.

The George Koy string recently filled an engagement at Palacios and Mr. Akers promises some of the best rodeo talent, including ropers and riders in the state.

The following program is announced.

Event No. 1—Cowboy Championship Calf Roping Contest, (breakaway). Prize money each day to be divided 50, 30 and 20 per cent.

Event No. 2—Wild Brahma Steer Riding Contest.

Event No. 3—Wild Cow Milking Contest.

Event No. 4—Bronc Riding Contest. Among these noted horses are such as "Caranation," "Sham Battle," and other horses of this class.

Event No. 6—Tie Down Calf Roping Contest. Prize money each day to be divided 50, 30 and 20 per cent.

Event No. 6—Bulldogging Wild Steers. A very dangerous and thrilling event.

Event No. 7—$100.00 Reward. The famous Red Tate Bull will be ridden at each performance. $100 prize offered to anyone riding him, contest rules.

All contestants in the Rodeo, Ropers and Riders should take part in the grand parade at 9:30 a. m. each day.

For further information call or write H. M. Akers, Manager, Cameron, Texas.

This rodeo will be under the auspices of the American Legion. The admission charges will be 50 and 25 cents.

The famous Geo. Koy string of rodeo stock including some of the most famous horses and Brahma steers ever gathered under rodeo performance.

As an added attraction for the entire week, the Pool and Schneck line of shows will be here. There will be twelve shows and six riding devices.

Horse's Fall Fatal to Harold Shaddy Here

Harold Shaddy, 17, who was thrown from a horse on his father's farm west of Cameron in the Ad Hall community last Thursday afternoon about 4 o'clock died as a result of injuries sustained at 8 o'clock in a local hospital Friday night.

Concussion of the brain was described by physicians as fatal to the lad. He was found in the field after the horse had returned to the home.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon with burial in the Catholic Cemetery.

MR. AND MRS. MITCHELL REACH FRANCE SAFELY FIRST FOOTBALL GAME IN CAMERON FRIDAY

CABELGRAM TO GILES AVRIETT TELLS OF SAFE ARRIVAL THERE

Friends in Cameron of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Mitchell will be interested and pleased with the announcement of receipt of a cablegram by Giles L. Avriett from A. F. Mitchell stating that Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell had reached Paris safely.

They sailed from Galveston on the steamship Chicago about ten days ago. The cable was from Mr. Mitchell and is printed on this page.

They are attending the American Legion convention in Paris and expects to make a tour of Germany, Switzerland, Italy, England and Belgium before returning home in November.

The convention awarded San Antonio the meeting place for the national convention in 1928.

Paris, France, Sept. 19, 1927

Giles L. Avriett, Cameron, Texas.

Arrived all right, pleasant journey. Advise friends. A. F. Mitchell.

Truck Driver Is Hurt When Machine Goes In Ditch Monday

J. J. Martin, truck driver for the Cameron Fruit Company, was painfully injured Monday night on the Rockdale road when the machine was forced into a ditch. Mr. Martin attempted to pass another car when the accident occurred. The truck was overturned. Mr. Martin suffered severe bruises and a badly cut hand.

He was treated at the Cameron Hospital but is now at his home recovering. Mr. Martin expects to be able to resume his duties in a short time. Two of the fingers from one hand were badly cut and for a time it appeared that the loss of them would be suffered.

Beauty Specialist Coming to Jackson Pharmacy Sept. 26

Women of Cameron will be interested in the announcement that Miss Thompson, the Dorothy Perkins beauty specialist will be at the Jackson Pharmacy No. 2 beginning September 26 and until October 1st.

A private booth will be set up for the facials and Miss Thompson expects a large number of patrons for the arts of beauty and face culture.

The announcement in this issue will be of interest to Cameron women.

12,000 Bales Cotton Received at Compress

Up to noon Thursday more than 12,000 bales of wagon cotton had been received at the warves of the Cameron Compress.

The rainfall this week retards picking but with the return of better weather the farmers are gathering the fleecy staple again.

Notice To Subscribers

On account of the large number who have paid since our last issue it has been impossible to make the corrections on the mailing galleys this week. Please be assured that the new dates on your papers will appear next week.

The management sincerely thanks the subscribers for the generous response to the notices for payment sent out. A large number have paid and the new dates will appear next week.

The Publishers.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bradbury spent Sunday in Waco with Mr. Bradbury's father who is a patient in a hospital there. He is improving so rapidly they expect to remove him to his home in Franklin this week.

CALDWELL AND CAMERON TO CLASH IN BI-DISTRICT GAME HERE

The football season for 1927 will be inaugurated here Friday afternoon when Cameron plays Caldwell in a Bi-District game.

Coach Perkins has had the Cameron squad active for some days and those who have seen the local team play believe the season will offer something better than usual.

In connection with this announcement it is well to state that Monday September 26 committees have planned to call on the business men to solicit funds for school athletics. It will be necessary to raise about $1000.

This is brought about by a change in the policy of the school board. Heretofore the funds have been solicited by students and there will be no change in the source of the income and the merchants are assured that no other lists will be circulated this year. Only one.

Merchants are asked to be ready to donate so the committee of business men can accomplish the task in a short time.

The funds will be handled by a committee of citizens and all the business will be administered by them.

Heretofore the public has contributed. The board has never had any appropriation for athletics. The plan now is to give a better business administration to the affairs of athletics.

Rockdale Man Dies From Accident Hurt

J. W. Oldham of Rockdale died this week in a local hospital as a result of wounds sustained in an accident in Rockdale. His head was crushed and he was rushed here for aid but his condition was too serious for medical skill to cure him.

The body was shipped by Green Brothers.

Dallas Man Killed In Accident Near Rosebud

J. M. Raley was killed when his car hit a bannister on a bridge north of Burlington on the Waco road last Saturday.

Mr. Raley was taking his son to Allen Academy at Bryan to enter school. The car hit some loose gravel and skidded to the bannister and ditch.

A. J. Triggs of Cameron was directly behind the car and assisted the wounded man through the window of the car. He was hurt internally. He was carried to Rosebud and there died from the injuries.

This is the second fatal accident in Milam County within one week.

Grandi Brothers Show In Cameron Next Week

The Grandi Brothers shows will begin a week's engagement in Cameron starting Monday. The shows are running advertisements in Cameron papers this week and have posted their bills over the city.

This show is said to be one of the best on the road making this territory and expects a large patronage in Cameron.

Pastor Called

The San Gabriel Baptist church called Rev. V. B. Breazeal of Waco as pastor for one half time at conference held by the church last Sunday.

Emma Jane Tyson

Friends in Cameron will be pleased to hear the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Tyson of Benton, Louisiana of the arrival in their home of Little Miss Emma Jane, weight nine and a half pounds. The grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Tyson of Cameron are rejoicing over the arrival of their first grand child and their friends congratulate them on their happiness.

Baptist W. M. S.

The women of the Baptist W. M. S. met at the church for a short business session. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mrs. Miller, Vice-president; Mrs. Bertha S. M. Burns Jr., president; Mrs. Conn Brewer, Secretary; Mrs. W. H. Henley, treasurer; Mrs. Harvey Dobbins, Young peoples leader; Mrs. J. B. White, personal service chairman and Mrs. Joe Denson, reporter.

Miss Mabel Jeter taught a home mission book to about twenty ladies. Miss Jeter is due much praise for the way she taught the book. She had taken it earlier in the year and had spent much time and thought to the teaching and every one that was present Monday enjoyed the study. Next Monday the ladies will meet in circles as follows: Circle one with Mrs. John Denson, Circle two with Mrs. W. E. Kuehl, Circle three with Mrs. Geo. A. Thomas and circle four with Mrs. Ray Jenness. Monday they will have a lesson in Royal Service and the remainder of the week will be given over to 'week of prayer' for missions.

RUN-DOWN

Cardui Starts Missouri Lady On Road To Health Again.

Mrs. T. G. Harris, of Clarksburg, Mo., writes: "For two years, I was in very poor health, almost past going, so weak and run-down. I tried to make the most of what little strength I had left, but I could find nothing to start me on the road to health again until, one day, I decided to try Cardui. "I took Cardui for several months and was very much gratified with the results. I began to do my own work again. My color, which had been pale and sallow, became natural. My complexion cleared up. Cardui was just the tonic I needed."

Take Cardui if you are run-down. It should do you good. At all druggists.

ADVANTAGES OF EAST TEXAS BODY EXPLAINED*25 MEMBERSHIPS SOUGHT FROM CAMERON COMMERCIAL CLUB

The following communication has been received from the East Texas Chamber of Commerce telling of the advantages of affiliation:

That Milam county is not affiliated with the East Texas Chamber of Commerce is due, we believe, solely to the fact that the business men of Milam county have not been informed as to the purpose and accomplishments of the organization.

A representative of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce was in Cameron and Rockdale Thursday, September 15, and so presented the matter to a few who attended the meetings held.

The county is the unit of operation of this organization and affiliation is secured in the following described manner: At the beginning of the year each county is given a quota of memberships. This quota is fixed by the board of directors after population, assessed valuations, and other factors are taken into consideration. When that county has secured its quota of individual memberships it is deemed to be an affiliating county and as such is entitled to all the services of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Brazos county, to the East of Milam county has already secured 100 memberships. Grimes county has secured 50 memberships, Washington county has secured 25 and Burleson county has accepted a quota of 25 memberships. Thus, you see that the quota given Milam county was not out of line with what other counties are doing for the organization.

Each county has a representative of the organization who is responsible to the people of his county for the service of the organization when the county secures its affiliation. It is his duty to call the members of the staff into Milam county when they can render service to the county. He also keeps us informed as to conditions existing in that county and furnishes us with facts and figures upon which we base our program of effort.

The membership is $10.00 per year and includes one year's subscription to "EAST TEXAS," the magazine published by this organization. A pocket membership card is also given and the member is placed upon our mailing list to receive all bulletins of the organization.

The several departments of the organization are in charge of experts who have had a wealth of experience in solving community problems. A great central organization of this character can afford to employ such experts where the local chamber of commerce could not afford to do so. These men are available at any time without cost to the local organizations or to the citizenship.

Quart of Water Cleans Kidneys

Take a Little Salts if Your Back Hurts, or Bladder is Troubling You

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Eating too much rich food creates acids, which excite the kidneys. They become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood. Then we get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys, or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage, or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin drinking a quart of water each day, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush and stimulate the kidneys; also to help neutralize the acids in the system, so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby often avoiding serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

Tom Denson and two daughters of the hostess Miss Dorothy Denson and Mrs. Clifton Jenness. Pink flowers were the decorations of the rooms of the home and pink roses and queen's crown were used in abundance on the prettily appointed tables covered with handsome rose luncheon set. A three course luncheon was served. First course, chicken, peas in ramkins, potatoes with pineapple, sweet pickle peach, hot rolls and tea; second course salad with crackers. At this time during the luncheon the three honorees were given beautifully wrapped packages. On opening they found popcorn. Third course, cream and cake. After this course the honorees were given barber pole candy. Mrs. Denson presented her guests with lovely birthday gifts on departing.

Edwin Dusek of Calvert spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dusek. He was accompanied by his cousin, Miss Lillie Dusek.

Julian E. Gillespie, Former Resident Here Returns From Turkey

Mr. Julian E. Gillespie, commercial attache at Constantinople, Turkey, is in Washington and will visit his mother, Mrs. Ethel Muse Gillespie in Austin before returning to Constantinople. Mr. Gillespie was born in Cameron and his father James Gillespie was connected with the First National Bank several years and is buried in Oak Hill Cemetery. Several friends of Mr. Gillespie wrote the Honorable Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce requesting permission for Mr. Gillespie to visit Cameron but the request was not granted as Mr. Gillespie's Texas itinerary includes only Dallas, Houston, Galveston, Austin and San Antonio. Mr. Gillespie is a nephew of Judge E. B. Muse of Dallas and has been in Constantinople since prior to the world war and is well informed in state affairs pertaining to the Balkan situation.

C. W. Bradbury returned Monday from Waco where he went to see his father from Franklin who is there in a hospital. He reports his father improving and the many friends here of Mr. Bradbury will be pleased to know that his father is improving.

Haven't you felt that sickening sense of helplessness when your tires begin to skid? Your brakes hold—but your tires do not. Perhaps the treads on your tires have worn smooth due to inferior rubber, or insufficient curing, or other causes. We do not encourage fast driving—but there are times when emergencies demand instant action—when brakes must take hold QUICKLY—and tires must GRIP the road without skidding.

Daytons

You are safe on Daytons. Their specially tempered treads give you a quick, sure grip. Remember too—Dayton Red Stripe Tires contain no Reclaimed Rubber. No premature tread wear. No wonder that Dayton's popularity is enjoying such rapid growth. Then why not consider Daytons before buying your next set?

CHARITY

There are many kinds of charity as well as many different ways to give. Gifts can be harmful as well as helpful; actuated by selfishness as well as by generosity. Ofttimes a donation is made because the donor knows that it will be given a large amount of publicity, and a good deal of pleasure obtained from the fact that many people will look upon the giver as generous, charitable and unselfish. Thus hospitals are founded, schools endowed, with the stipulation that they be named after the person contributing the money. Too often when the making of a gift is considered, it is from the standpoint of how much good will it get out of it rather than how much benefit will it be. Of course, money given in this way is beneficial but how much more laudable if the spirit of unselfishness and generosity were present. What a wonderful state when one can enjoy giving because he sees others made happy and not because his conscience dictates that it shall be done, or that a certain amount of publicity and material gain is to be derived from the act.

Then too, it is not necessary, as it is sometimes considered, to have financial means in order to be charitable. The best of gifts are often just a brotherly and personal interest—a word of advice and encouragement, a smile or a slap on the back. In many cases where a man has gotten into the rough of life's course and considers himself to be out of the game, the knowledge that someone has confidence in his ability, is taking a personal interest and backing him for a winner, renews his confidence in himself and he starts down the fairway with renewed ambition, whereas an impersonal donation of money, while it might help, stands a chance to further deprive him of his feeling of independence and confidence. A visit to a sick man helps a lot more than a bunch of flowers; a word of cheer from a friend is often the best of medicine.

In the modern-day rush for wealth and material gain the meaning of the word brother is fast being forgotten. The tendency is to become a group of mechanical beings, devoid of all but selfish thoughts, striving for wealth and display. One might well pause a moment and remember that after all life is short; it is better to have one's memory perpetuated by friends and kind deeds than by hoarded treasures. Along this line it has been said:

The thing that in this life is the most worthwhile,
That cost the least and counts the most,
Is just a friendly smile.

—Exchange.

You've simply got to hand it to Cameron when it comes to a question of civic improvement. Undeterred by an already high tax rate and heavy outstanding indebtedness represented by both bonds and city warrants, some of which draw an unusually high rate of interest, Cameron city officials are going right ahead with their program of street improvement. They are planning now to pave 150 more blocks, at a cost of $45,000, one third of which is to be paid by the city, and two-thirds by the property owners. Cameron banks will lend the city government its proportion of the money. Cameron evidently realizes you cannot build a city on a low tax rate.—Rockdale Reporter.

MUSH VERSUS MURDER

Even primitive tribes, and pioneer peoples, often give much better protection to human life against murder than is given in many of the most civilized and enlightened Christian communities.

The above statement may look rather strong, but the facts abundantly bear it out.

In ancient Bible times the members of the family of a murdered man immediately pursued the murderer and slew him; but the ancient Hebrews—as an act of humanity and mercy—provided cities of refuge. These cities of refuge were only for the slayer: "Which killeth any person at unawares" (Numbers 35: 11), and this was only a protection: "Until he stand before congregation in judgment."

In primitive days in Texas—and from our information, in other states and countries—the red-handed murderer, who killed his fellowman for gain, or mercenary motives, and not in a fair fight with no favor shown, was strung up to the nearest tree, after a speedy trial had fixed his guilt. Only a few hours elapsed between the crime and the decoration of a tree with the body of the slayer.

Now, after a long wait for indictment, and then for probable reversals in the higher courts, in those very rare instances in which a jury has affixed the death penalty, (and this is done only in the most horrible crimes and on the most abundant proof) the newspaper battle begins, and friends of the criminal fill the columns of the press with articles appealing to the "sob sisters brigade" to cheat the law of its due.

Recent instances are in the minds of our readers now: Two anarchists murdered a pay-master and "swiped" his roll. Anarchists of this glorious land of the free, put up over four hundred thousand dollars as a defense fund and kept the case in the courts for seven years. After the Governor and a committee of three selected from the greatest colleges of America to determine whether they had been accorded every right, had decided that they were guilty of the crime, the newspapers were filled with appeals for their liberation, while their anarchist pals were dynamiting public buildings and structures all over America, and mobbing American citizens in foreign lands, in enforcement of the threat that these murderers should not suffer the penalty of the law.

In Texas we have seen a newspaper campaign, in the last few weeks, in behalf of almost every convicted murderer or highjacker, or assaulter of women, to prevent their suffering the death penalty, and now a murderer in the death cell at Huntsville is conducting a campaign for commutation and friends on the outside are deluging the press with letters and prepared propaganda in an effort to cheat the chair. His crime was one of the most brutal in the criminal annals of Texas. We wish we could discuss the horrible crime he committed and the evidence which overwhelmingly established his guilt, to the satisfaction of a jury and of the higher court. He had just been released from prison in another state, after serving a term for a crime of violence in that state. The Editor of this paper has just received a prepared article with a request that we run it in our columns, seeking to re-try said case in the public prints, and to create such sentiment as to impel Governor Dan Moody—who has a record for law enforcement that the Governor of any state might well be proud of—to commute the sentence to life imprisonment; of course a subsequent Governor would be requested to grant a pardon; and this brutal assassin would be released to commit some other crime of violence, similar to that which caused a jury of red-blooded Texas citizens to give him the death penalty, which he so richly deserves.

Of course this Editor will not publish this article; but many Editors who have not the intestinal equipment to stand up for the enforcement of the law, and many clabber-heads who are always ready to accept most anything "to fill up with"—as that avoids the necessity of doing any thinking—will run this article and many readers will conceive the idea that there must be some doubt of guilt, "or the Press of the State would not take up the battle for this friendless man."

For many years some of the big Texas counties—the need not give offense by calling names—had more murders than all Great Britain and Canada; but these same counties have seen the light, and are sending a procession of murders and high-jackers, and violators of the sanctity of womanhood, to Huntsville to await the electric chair, and are sending others with long prison terms; and already professional criminals are giving these counties wide berth.

The only way to put down crime is to punish the criminal; and a policy of mushiness has no terror for murderers.—Hearne Democrat.

McADOO'S DECISION

William Gibbs McAdoo, 64, but a lot younger in energy and spirit—voluntarily withdraws himself from consideration as a candidate for the presidency.

This action is remarkable, less in the light of the political situation three years ago. It has only been three years since McAdoo's name led all the rest in a democratic national convention for 91 ballots.

A year earlier than that, his nomination had seemed almost a certainty. It seemed the democratic party would enter the campaign under the leadership of a strong, effective, experienced, progressive statesman, which is what McAdoo was.

A single mistake was his undoing.

As a lawyer, he accepted Edward L. Doheny as a client. That, it proved, was his end as the candidate of the progressives in his party. True, great numbers of them remained steadfast, but, for the most, their hearts weren't in it. Those 91 ballots were made possible not by the progressives of the party, but by the intolerant. Instead of representing at this crisis of his career the progressive economic principles for which he always had stood, McAdoo found himself—and unhappily so, we believe—representing the intolerant religious elements and the fanatical dregs. He found himself in a death duel with another progressive, Governor Smith, of New York, over an issue that must certainly have meant less to himself than the greater issue on which he was in agreement with his opponent.

It was one of the great tragedies of American politics.

McAdoo has decided not to carry this battle further—at least not as a candidate. He suggests that in standing aside he does so in order that the field may be clear for the appearance of another leader. He, of course, does not accept Smith in that role; the wounds of their battle have not healed.

It happens, however, that the advent of a new leader for the forces he represented at Madison Square Garden appears unlikely at this time. None that may be willing has attracted national attention to himself. The man whom McAdoo cannot accept has seemed to grow larger and larger in public estimation.

It would complete the ironic tragedy of McAdoo's political career if events should compel him—as a progressive—to accept in 1928 the man he fought to a disastrous finish in 1924.

Now that he has removed the picture of the White House from his mind, we hope that McAdoo may find the new joy in life that usually comes to men who do so. Hiram Johnson, they say, has been happier from the day he cast out the presidential ambition. And Calvin Coolidge is declared to be a new man since he decided he did not choose to run again.

Certainly McAdoo has a splendid career of brave and useful service to look back upon.—Houston Press.

As You Like It Club

Mrs. L. J. Power proved a very pleasant hostess Tuesday when she entertained the 'As You Like It Club'. The rooms of the home were very tastefully decorated in the chosen colors of pink and green using queen's crown and pink roses as the flowers. Each guest was asked to relate some interesting happening in their lives. Some giving events in their married life, other interesting things about their home and this proved much merriment. The hostess served a salad plate consisting of chicken salad, olives, potatoe chips, bread and butter sandwiches with hot tea. Guests other than club members were Mesdames Jeff Kemp, C. N. Green, W. P. McCall and Henry Davis.

Sam Hefley, representative from Milam County is out of the Cameron hospital where he went last week for an operation. His many friends will be glad to learn of his recovery.

Miss Mozell Bigbee left Friday for Austin to enter State University. She visited for a few days in the home of Mrs. H. D. Cranfield.

Drink Water If Kidneys Hurt

Take a tablespoonful of Salts for Back pains or Bladder bothers.

Too much meat may produce acid, says a well-known authority. It warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to filter the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork. They get sluggish; the elimination becomes clogged and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have aching pains in the back, or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have nervous headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or constipation in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of E. J. Salts, take a tablespoonful to a glass of water before breakfast each morning, and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and has been used for generations to flush and cleanse clogged kidneys, to help neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus often causing urinary and bladder disorders.

E. J. Salts is inexpensive and does not injure; makes a delightful beverage. Lithia water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to help to keep the kidneys clean and active. Drink plenty of water and salt.

GRAND LODGE ASSETS HIGH AND OTHER LODGES RE- PORT PROGRESS

Total assets of Subordinate and Grand Lodges of the Knights of Pythias at the close of the fiscal year, June 30, 1927 were $31,088,560, according to fiscal year report issued recently by the Supreme Lodge finance committee and Harry M. Love, supreme keeper of records and seal. The tabulations were completed at a meeting of the finance committee held in Minneapolis, Minn. The assets include cash on hand, real estate, buildings and furnishings, bond investments and lodge paraphernalia, owned by fifty-five grand lodges and more than 6,000 subordinate lodges in the

SULPHUR IS BEST TO CLEAR UP UGLY, BROKEN OUT SKIN

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Menthosulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation.

Menthosulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment of a disfigurement. A little jar of Rowles Menthosulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream.

United States and Canada.

These assets, according to E. W. Hood, master of exchequer of Milam Lodge No. 125, this city show that the Order has developed along lines of the fraternity. "The subordinate which guarantee a permanent growth lodge assets amount to slightly over $25,000,000," said Mr. E. W. Hood, of which a very large part represents money invested in lodge buildings. In many grand domains, approximately one half of the lodges own their own homes. Last year more than $6,000,000 was invested in buildings for use of lodges. Real estate owned by lodges is appraised at more than $12,000,000. The lodges have over $2,000,000 in cash and more than $7,000,000 in investments, mostly bonds of the government.

The report read before the lodge by Fred Henry, keeper of records and seal, showed the grand lodges in a most healthy condition. Real Estate and investments owned by these bodies approximate $6,000,000. A large part of this is invested in buildings in larger cities of the United States and Canada, according to Mr. Fred Henry. "Some of the most important buildings; he said are located in Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Missouri, Texas and New York. The Indiana Pythian building, the first of its kind, is valued at more than a million dollars. It is located in Indianapolis, having been erected about fifteen years ago by the grand lodge. Ohio has nearly a million invested in Home buildings at Springfield, Missouri has a magnificent Home building and is now ready to erect a $2,000,000 structure in St. Louis. Michigan recently completed a large hotel and lodge building in Detroit at a cost of $1,200,000. New York Pythians dedicated a building in New York City in June which cost upward of a million dollars.

"One of the most important features of the report," according to Mr. Erle K. Adrian, chancellor commander of the local lodge, "is the outlay made by lodges over the country to provide permanent quarters for the lodge with commodious halls and club rooms. Approximately thirty per cent of the lodges in the eastern and central sections of the country own their own homes. In most cases these buildings are among the best in the small cities of the country. Reports show that these buildings in many cases are community centers and that the residents of these towns are greatly benefitted by use of these buildings for lodge, community and welfare meetings. The report is a real proof that the Order is making substantial gains in class of membership and in assets of a nature that guarantees its permanence and growth."

Lodge assets and assets held by the Insurance Department amounting to $20,000,000, gives the Order assets of more than $50,000,000 according to the report.

Local Highway To Get Hard Surface

Hard surfacing will be given to 200 miles of State highway soon, under maintenance contracts awarded by the Highway Commission, at Austin, totaling nearly $500,000. The inverted penetration process will be used, consisting of asphalt and crushed rock. Among the contracts were the following in Central Texas.

Williamson: Haden & Austin, $15,739 on 8.1 miles of highway No. 2-B from one mile west of Hutto and from Granger south 2.9 miles.

Milam: Haden & Austin, $13,243 on 7.2 miles of highway No. 36 from Cameron west.

Robertson: Brown & Root, $16,446 on 9.7 miles of highway No. 43 from Hearne northeast toward Franklin.

The Milam county contract is for the new highway extending from Cameron to Ad Hall.

This road will be topped with 1-2 gallon asphalt oil to the square yard and crushed limestone.

This is the same topping used on the Cameron to Burlington highway and on the Little River road leading from Cameron towards the new bridge.

Call Repair Clerk If Your Telephone Gets Out Of Order

PUBLIC SERVICE

The Bell System is owned by the public it serves. There are stockholders in practically every town and city in which the Bell System operates. The Bell System of today is an American institution, grown up under American laws, plans, and ideals. It is really publicly owned, engaged in rendering a public service to the entire country, under public regulation.

DOUBLE DUTY

In any emergency speed is one of the first requisites. The following letter from one of our subscribers shows what long distance telephone service can do for you when a long distance must be covered in the shortest possible time:

"I wish to advise you that recently I placed two long distance calls, for parties located in different towns, at which time I requested your operator to kindly rush.

"The operator advised me to hold the line, and a connection was made immediately with the first party. The same service was rendered on the second call. I am taking this opportunity to compliment your Company and the operator on the services rendered me."

Complete Report of Trouble Speeds Restoration of Service

THERE are 201 parts in your telephone instrument. The wires leading to the switchboard may be anywhere from a half-mile to five miles in length. There are countless connections at the switchboard. You can see the possibility of something going wrong with some of these many parts of equipment.

If your telephone should get out of order, call the Repair Clerk. In making your report, tell just what seems to be wrong—that the bell does not ring; that you cannot raise the operator; that the line is noisy; that people claim they cannot reach you.

Give Complete Report

A complete report of this kind, rather than a mere statement that the line is out of order, will let the repair people know just what part of the equipment is not working properly, and they will know what steps to take to get the trouble cleared and service restored in the quickest time.

In Texas last year approximately $220,000 in dividends was paid to 7500 stockholders.

CREAM FOR CATARRH OPENS UP NOSTRILS

Tells How To Get Quick Relief
from Head-Colds. It's Splendid!

In one minute your clogged nostrils will open, the air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, sniffling, blowing, headache, dryness. No struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh will be gone.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed-up with a cold or nasty catarrh—Relief comes so quickly.

TIGHT FEELING

Stomach Troubles Relieved by the Aid of Black-Draught.

Telling how he obtained relief from very disagreeable symptoms of stomach trouble, Mr. Charles T. Wintz, of R. F. D. 4, Huntington, W. Va., made the following statement:

"I began taking Black-Draught about fifteen years ago. I would have gas on my stomach that just pressed and seemed to shorten my breath, and I would have all kinds of feeling. My head would ache and I was in a very bad fix.

"I had tried remedies that didn't seem to do me any good. I saw Black-Draught advertised and sent for it.

"After taking a few doses, I knew it was helping me. It seemed to break up the gas, and the tight, bloated feeling disappeared, and I was like a new man. I could eat without Black-Draught. I can eat anything I want to. If I get dizziness in the head, Black-Draught relieves it."

World Series to Begin October 4

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 19.—Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, baseball commissioner, tonight sent word to the officials of the New York Yankees, American league pennant winners, and the four contending teams for the National league flag to meet him here next Friday morning to arrange for the world series.

The National league teams invited to the conference were the Pirates, Giants, Cardinals and Cubs.

Landis intimated that the series would open probably on Tuesday, Oct. 4th.

Much interest attaches to the announcement by Ray Burke of the Duke & Ayers store of the sale here Saturday of 100 copies of the famous painting by Onderdonk "Bluebonnets." These pictures were advertised in The Herald last week and they may be seen in the display windows of the store in Cameron. They will not be sold until Saturday of this week.

The many friends of S. M. Burns will be pleased to know that he is doing nicely, recovering from his recent illness. He will be confined to his home for several weeks but is improving.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores
Its Natural Color and Lustre At Once

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients by a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

MANY CASES HEARD IN THE COURTS HERE

SEPTEMBER TERM SEES DOCKETS BEING CLEARED
IN MILAM

The following proceedings are reported this week in the Courts at Cameron:

In the case of Cameron State Bank vs. Missouri State Life Insurance Company et al on trial last week in the District Court, the jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff. The defendant admitted its liability but asked the court to decide which of the claimants should have the amount involved.

The Grand Jury was re-assembled for further work on the 19th, but adjourned the 27th and the request was granted.

In the case of State vs. Joe Kostelcky for burglary, upon plea of guilty, jury assessed his punishment at two years in the penitentiary and recommended suspension of sentence. The defendant is only nineteen years old.

There were four cases of theft of chickens against Rich Evans and he pleaded guilty and received one year in the penitentiary in each case. It was proved defendant sold a good many chickens, including the Rockdale market, and in a confession disclosed many places in Cameron he visited and secured chickens for sale.

The bail bond in the case against Pat Fish was forfeited because of failure of defendant to appear in court, and judgment nisi rendered against him and his sureties in the sum of $500.

Bill Ford, colored, pleaded guilty to unlawful manufacture of intoxicating liquor and was given a verdict of one year in the penitentiary.

W. F. Roberts pleaded guilty to driving an automobile while intoxicated and was fined $50.00 by the jury.

Dadie Bullock was given a $50.00 fine and a ten day jail sentence for driving an automobile while intoxicated.

Clyde Malicoat, a nineteen year old boy, was given a five year sentence for forgery, but the jury recommended sentence be suspended.

W. B. Bobbitt was found guilty of assault with intent to murder and given a two year sentence and also of assault with prohibited weapon and given a year in the penitentiary. The sentences do not run concurrently.

Matthew Kimes Sentenced To Die

Okmulgee, Ok., Sept. 19.—Matthew Kimes, 21 years old, youthful Oklahoma outlaw was sentenced to die in the electric chair by a District Court jury here today for complicity in the bank robbery and the killing of Police Chief W. J. McNally in Beggs, Ok., last May 18.

The jury reported at 10 a. m., after having the case since 9:53 o'clock Saturday night. Kimes, when learning of the verdict, appeared nonchalant.

One of his guards, leading him back to the jail, remarked:

"Well, Matt, you can't beat me in a game of pitch tonight."

"The hell I can't," the young bandit replied. "I haven't got anything else to think about now."

Big Eaters Get Kidney Trouble

Take Salts at first sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat often too much red meat and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy; full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus often ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia water beverage and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

Jack Freeman who has been away in his territory for the past two weeks is again among his many friends in Cameron. Mr. Freeman travels for a clothing concern and has a large and profitable territory. He returns to Cameron in time to enjoy the pre-enthusiasm of the Tunney-Dempsey fight in Chicago, the world series and the Dixie series.

THE STORY

CHAPTER II

Miss Van Gorder

Miss Cornelia Van Gorder, indomitable spinster, last bearer of a name which had been great in New York, New York, was a red-headed woman, Amsterdam and Peter Stuyvesant, sat propped up in bed in the green room of her newly rented house, reading the morning newspaper. Patricia, to her finger-tips, independent to the roots of her hair, she preserved, at sixty-five, a vigor and quenchless curiosity in the world on every side of life, which would have made her a full and crowded years that she had not entirely satisfied. She was an age and on a level, but she was more than that—she had grown old without growing old, or losing touch with youth—her eyes had the delicate strength of a young woman—and her mild and youthful face preserved an innocent rest and adventure.

Wide travel, social leadership, the knowledge of art and books, a dozen charities, an existence rich with diverse experiences—all these she had enjoyed, and she had been to the full—but she had, with ingenious vanity, that there were still sides to her character which

As a little girl she had hesitated between wishing to be a locomotive engineer or a famous bandit—and when she had found, at seven, that the accident of sex would probably debar her from either occupation, she had resolved, fiercely, that some time before she died she would show the world in general and the Van Gorder clan in particular that a woman was quite as capable of dangerous exploits as a man.

She threw down the morning paper disgustedly. Here she was at sixty-five—rich—safe—settled for the summer in a delightful country-place—a good cook—excellent servants—beautiful gardens and grounds—everything as respectable and comfortable as a limousine! And out in the world—people were murdering and robbing each other—floating over Niagara falls in barrels—rescuing children from burning houses—taming tigers—going to Africa to hunt gorillas—doing all sorts of exciting things! She could not float over Niagara falls in a barrel—Lizzie Allen, her faithful old maid, would never let her! She could not go to Africa to hunt gorillas—Sally Ogden, her sister, would never let her hear the last of it. She could not even, as she certainly would if she were a man, try and track down this terrible creature, the Bat!

She smiled disgustedly. Things came to her much too easily. Take this very house she was living in. Ten days ago she had decided, on the spur of the moment, to take a place in the country for the summer. It was late in the renting season—even the ordinary difficulties of finding a suitable spot would have added some spice to the quest—but this ideal place had practically fallen into her lap, with no trouble or search at all. Courtleigh Fleming, president of the Union bank, who had built the house on a scale of comfortable magnificence—Courtleigh Fleming had died suddenly in the West, when Miss Van Gorder was beginning her house-hunting. The day after his death her agent had called her up—Richard Fleming, Courtleigh Fleming's nephew and heir, was anxious to rent the Fleming house at once—if she made a quick decision it was hers for the summer. At a bargain, Miss Van Gorder had decided at once—she took an innocent pleasure in bargains. The next day the keys were hers—the servants engaged to stay on—within a week she had moved. All very pleasant and easy no doubt—but adventure—pooh!

And yet she could not really say that her move to the country had brought her no adventures at all. There had been—things. Last night the lights had gone off unexpectedly, and Billy, the Japanese butler and handy-man, had said that he had seen a face at the kitchen window. Servants' nonsense, probably—but the servants seemed unusually nervous for people who were used to the country. And Lizzie, of course, had sworn that she had seen a man trying to get up the stairs—but Lizzie could grow hys-through the long window, made lying in bed an old woman's luxury—and she refused to be an old woman.

"Through the worst old woman I ever knew was a man!" she thought with a satiric twinkle. She was glad Sally's daughter—young Dale Ogden—was here in the house with her—the companionship of Dale's bright young maid would keep her from getting old-womanish if anything could.

She smiled, thinking of Dale. Dale was a nice child—her favorite niece. Sally didn't understand her, of course—but Sally wouldn't. Sally read magazine articles on the Younger Generation and its wild ways. "Sally doesn't remember when she was a Younger Generation herself," thought Miss Cornelia. "But I do—and if we didn't have sports roasters in the eighties we have buggies—and youth doesn't change its ways just because it's bobbed its hair." Before Mr. and Mrs. Ogden left for Europe, Sally had talked to her sister Cornelia. . . long and weightily, on the problem of Dale. "Problem of Dale indeed!" thought Miss Cornelia scornfully. "Dale's the dearest young thing I've seen in some time—and she'd be ten times happier if Sally wasn't always trying to marry her off to some young snip with more of what fools call 'eligibility' than brains! But there, Cornelia Van Gorder—Sally's given you your inuings—ram-paging off to Europe and leaving Dale with you all summer—and you've a lot less sense than I flatter myself you have. If you can't give your favorite niece a happy vacation from all her immediate family—and maybe find her some one that'll make her happy for good and all into the bargain!" for Miss Cornelia was an incorrigible matchmaker.

Nevertheless, she was more concerned with "the problem of Dale" than she would have admitted. Dale, at her age, with her charm and beauty—"why, she ought to behave as if she were walking on air," thought her aunt, worriedly. "And instead she acts more as if she were walking on pins-and-needles. She seems to like being here—I know she likes me—I'm pretty sure she's just as pleased to get a little holiday from Sally and Harry—she amuses herself—she falls in with any plan I want to make—and yet—And yet Dale was not happy—Miss Cornelia felt sure of it. "It isn't natural for a girl to seem so luster and—and quiet—at her age—and she's nervous, too—as if something were preying on her mind—particularly these last few days."

Then Miss Cornelia's mind seized upon a sentence in a hurried flow of her sister's last instructions—a sentence that had passed almost unnoticed at the time—something about Dale and "an unfortunate attachment—but of course, Cornelia, dear, she's so young—and I'm sure it will come to nothing now her father and I have made our attitude plain!" "Pshaw—I bet that's it," thought Miss Cornelia shrewdly. "Dale's fallen in love, or thinks she has, with some decent young man without a penny or an 'eligibility' to his name—and now she's unhappy because her parents don't approve—or because she's trying to give him up and finds she can't. Well—" and Miss Cornelia's tight little white curls trembled with the vehemence of her decision. "If the young thing ever comes to me for advice I'll give her a piece of my mind that will surprise her—and scandalize Sally Van Gorder Ogden out of her seven senses. Sally thinks nobody's worth looking at if they didn't come over to America when our family did—she hasn't gumption enough to realize that if some people hadn't come over later, we'd all still be living on crullers and Dutch punch!"

She was just stretching out her hand to ring for Lizzie, when a knock came at the door. She gathered her Paisley shawl more tightly about her shoulders. "Who is it—oh, it's only you, Lizzie," as a pleasant Irish face, crowned by an old-fashioned pompadour of graying hair, peeped in at the door. "Good morning, Lizzie—I was just going to ring for you. Has Miss Dale had breakfast—I know it's shamefully late."

"Good morning, Miss Nelly," said Lizzie, "and a lovely morning it is, too—if that was all of it," she added, somewhat tartly, as she came into the room with a little silver tray whereupon the morning mail reposed.

We have not yet described Lizzie Allen—and she deserves description. A fixture in the Van Gorder household since her sixteenth year, she had long ago attained the dignity of a Tradition. One could not imagine Miss Cornelia without a Lizzie to grumble at and cherish—or Lizzie without a Miss Cornelia to baby and scold, with the privileged frankness of such old family servants. The two were at once a contrast and a complement. Fifty years of American ways had not shaken Lizzie's firm belief in banshees and leprechauns or tamed her wild Irish tongue—fifty years of Lizzie had not altered Miss Cornelia's attitude of fond exasperation with some of Lizzie's more startling eccentricities. Together they may have been, as one of the younger Van Gorder cousins had reverently put it, "a scream"—but apart each would have felt lost without the other.

"Now what do you mean—if that was all of it, Lizzie?" queried Miss Cornelia, sharply, as she took her letters from the tray.

Lizzie's face assumed an expression of doleful reticence. "It's not my place to speak," she said with a grim shake of her head. "But I saw my grandmother last night. God rest her—plain as life she was—the way she looked when they waked her—and if it was my doing, we'd be leaving this house this hour!"

"Cheese-pudding for supper—course you saw your grandmother!" said Miss Cornelia, crisply, sitting open the first of her letters with a paper-knife. "Nonsense, Lizzie—I'm not going to be scared away from an ideal country-place because you happen to have a bad dream!"

"Was it a bad dream I saw on the stairs last night, when the lights went out and I was looking for the candles?" said Lizzie heatedly. "Was it a bad dream that ran away from me and out the back door, as fast as Paddy's pig? No, Miss Nelly—it was a man—seven feet tall he was, and eyes that shone in the dark and—"

"Lizzie Allen!"

"Well, it's true, for all that," insisted Lizzie, stubbornly. "And why did the lights go out—told me that, Miss Nelly? They never go out in the city."

"Well, this isn't the city," said Miss Cornelia, decisively. "It's the country—and very nice it is—and we're staying here all summer. I suppose I may be thankful," she went on ironically, "that it was only your grandmother you saw last night. It might have been the Bat—and then where would you be this morning?"

"I'd be stiff and stark, with candles at my head and feet," said Lizzie gloomily. "Oh, Miss Nelly, don't talk of that terrible creature, the Bat!" She came nearer to her mistress. "Oh, Miss Nelly, Miss Nelly—do let's go back to the city before he flies away with us all!"

"Nonsense, Lizzie," said Miss Cornelia again, but this time less firmly. Her face grew serious. "If I thought for an instant that there was any real possibility of our being in danger here," she said slowly. "But—oh, look at the map, Lizzie! The Bat has been—flying in this district—that's true enough—but he hasn't come within ten miles of us yet!"

"What's ten miles to the Bat? The obdurate Lizzie sighed. "And what of the letter ye had when ye first moved in here? 'The Fleming house is unhealthy for strangers,' it said. 'Leave it while ye can.'"

"Some silly boy—or some crank," Miss Cornelia's voice was firm. "I never pay any attention to anonymous letters."

"And there's a funny-lookin' letter this mornin'—down at the bottom of the pile—" persisted Lizzie. "It looked like the other one—I'd half a mind to throw it away before you saw it!"

"Now, Lizzie, that's quite enough!" Miss Cornelia had the Van Gorder manner on now. "I don't care to discuss your ridiculous fears any further. Where is Miss Dale?"

Lizzie assumed an attitude of prim rebuff. "Miss Dale's gone into the city, ma'am."

"Gone into the city?"

"Yes, ma'am. She got a telephone call this morning, early—long-distance it was. I don't know who it was called her."

"Lizzie! You didn't listen?"

"Of course not, Miss Nelly," Lizzie's face was a study in injured virtue. "Miss Dale took the call in her own room and shut the door."

"And you were outside the door?"

"Where else would I be dustin', that time in the mornin'?" said Lizzie. "But it's yourself knows well enough the doors in this house is thick and not a sound goes past them."

"I should hope not," said Miss Cornelia, rebukingly. "But—tell me, Lizzie—did Miss Dale seem—well—this morning?"

"That she did not," said Lizzie promptly. "When she came down to breakfast, after the call, she looked like a ghost. I made her the eggs she likes, too—but she wouldn't eat 'em."

"I'm," Miss Cornelia pondered. "I'm sorry if—well, Lizzie, we nupn't meddle in Miss Dale's affairs."

"No, ma'am."

"But—did she say when she would be back?"

"Yes, Miss Nelly. On the two o'clock train. Oh—and I was almost forgettin'—she told me to tell you particular—she said while she was in the city she'd be after engagin' the gardener you spoke of."

"The gardener? Oh, yes—I spoke to her about that the other night—the place is beginning to look run down—so many flowers to attend to. Well—that's very kind of Miss Dale."

"Yes, Miss Nelly," Lizzie hesitated, obviously with some weighty news on her mind which she wished to impart. Finally she took the plunge. "I might have told Miss Dale she could have been lookin' for a cook as well—and a house-maid—" she muttered at last, "but they hadn't spoken to me then."

Miss Cornelia sat bolt upright in bed. "A cook—and a house-maid? But we have a cook and a house-maid. Lizzie! You don't mean to tell me—"

Lizzie nodded her head. "Yes'm. They're leaving. Both of 'em. Today."

"But good heav—Lizzie, why on earth didn't you tell me before? I'm really very much annoyed with you because you didn't. I shall get up immediately—I want to give those two a piece of my mind. Is Billy leaving too?"

"Not that I know of—the heathen Japanese!" said Lizzie sorrowfully. "And yet he'd be better riddance than cook or house-maid."

"Now, Lizzie, how many times have I told you that you must conquer your prejudices? Billy is an excellent butler—he'd been with Mr. Fleming ten years and has the very highest recommendations. I am very glad that he is staying. If he is—with you to help him, we shall do very well until I can get other servants." Miss Cornelia had risen now and Lizzie was helping her with the intricacies of her toilet. "But it's too annoying," she went on, in the pauses of Lizzie's gait ministrations. "What did they say to you, Lizzie—did they give any reason?"

"Oh, yes, Miss Nelly—they had reasons you could choke a goat with," said Lizzie, viciously, as she arranged Miss Cornelia's transformation. "Cook was the first of them—she was up late—I think they'd been talking it over together. She comes into the kitchen with her hat on and her bag in her hand. 'Good morning,' says I, pleasant enough, 'you've got your hat on,' says I. 'I'm leaving,' says she. 'Leaving, are you?' says I. 'Leaving,' says she. 'My sister has twins,' says she. 'I just got word—I must go to her right away.' 'What?' says I, all struck in a heap. 'Twins,' says she, 'you've heard of such things as twins.' 'That I have,' says I, 'and I know a lie on a face when I see it, too.'"

"Lizzie!"

"Well, it made me sick at heart, Miss Nelly—her with her hat and her bag and her talk about twins—and no consideration for you. 'Well,' says she, 'you can see that Annie, the house-maid's leaving, too.' 'Has her sister got twins as well?' says I and looked at her. 'No,' says she, as bold as brass, 'but Annie's got a pain in her side and she's feared it's appendicitis—so she's leaving to go back to her family.' 'Oh,' says I, 'and what about Miss Van Gorder?' 'I'm sorry for Miss Van Gorder,' says she—the falseness of her! 'But she'll have to do the best she can—for twins and appendicitis is acts of God and not to be put aside for even the best of wages.' 'Is that so?' says I and with that I left her, for I knew if I listened to her a minute longer I'd be giving her bonnet a shake and that wouldn't be respectable. So there you are, Miss Nelly, and that's the gist of the matter."

Miss Cornelia laughed. "Lizzie—you're unique," she said. "But I'm glad you didn't give her bonnet a shake—though I've no doubt you could."

"Humph!" said Lizzie, snorting, the fire of battle in her eye. "And is it any Black Irish from Ulster would play impudence to a Kerry woman without getting the flat of a hand in—but that's neither here nor there. The truth of it is, Miss Nelly," her voice grew solemn, "it's my belief—they're scared—both of them—by the haunts and the banshees here—and that's all."

"If they are, they're very silly," said Miss Cornelia, practically. "But it doesn't matter, if they want to go, they may."

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, say well-known druggists here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

● This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound to-night and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

SCIENTISTS STILL BAFFLED BY MANNER IN WHICH COTTON ROOT ROT DISEASE SPREADS

College Station, Tex., Sept. 18.—The fungus causing cotton root rot has been known for many years to have a spore or seed stage and it has been thought by scientists studying the disease that the function of these spores is to disseminate the fungus growth. Spores of this fungus gathered during the present season are being germinated in the Experiment Station laboratory, but to date the fungus threads emanating from these spores have all died. Doctor Taubenhau, who is directing the studies, is proceeding with the work and hopes to discover definitely whether these spores are able to reproduce the fungus under field conditions. The spores certainly do not behave in the same manner as do the spores of other fungi in that they seem unable to grow in the element in which they germinate.

It is known that root rot fungus can maintain itself almost indefinitely upon live roots of susceptible plants and that the fungus growth is readily transferred from affected roots to susceptible roots coming in contact with them. If this were the only means by which the infestation is spread, then eradication would simply be a matter of cleaning the land of susceptible roots; but if the spores produced by the fungus actually do grow and spread, where conditions are suitable for their germination and growth. These spores are light and might be easily spread by the wind or by insects or by various other agencies and since they form under favorable weather conditions wherever the fungus is at work, such a finding would disclose the seriousness of the sporadic spread of this fungus growth which kills cotton, legumes and, in fact almost all of the succulent rooted crops as well as many of the trees and fruits.

Studies of the control of root rot, therefore, involve gaining a knowledge of how the fungus propagates. The broadside attack which has been launched this year by the Experiment Station, under special appropriation for the work, has already revealed a wide distribution of spore spots which have been observed to form under proper conditions of moisture and high temperatures. In fact, experimental work at Iowa Park, has resulted in the production of spore spots at will through regulated irrigation of the land where the fungus is known to be at work and where the temperatures are rather high. It has also been observed that as the drouthy conditions have advanced during the present summer the spores have been more difficult to find and it is thought that they do not form under drouthy conditions, regardless of the temperatures. It is known that the fungus works more slowly on the infected roots of plants during a drouth as well as during the winter time than it does when the plants are in vigorous growing condition and no spore spots have been found where the fungus is in this semi-suspended state of activity.

Exhaustive tests are under way in the effort to produce the disease thru the germination of these spores in the laboratories. Every effort is being made to provide every sort of condition which the spores might encounter in the field and which would be suitable to induce the disease; but, as yet, no result have been obtained that would throw light on how these spores grow when they germinate naturally, nor for that matter, whether they grow at all. Indeed there is no definite evidence that these spores do produce fungus growth until the means of spread of the disease is fully and completely understood, it will be impossible to consistently control or, with certainty minimize the losses.

Mrs. Bradford Honored

Mrs. Sam McDermott and Mrs. Bob Terry were joint hostesses last Thursday at the home of the former where they entertained in honor of Mrs. Bradford and her mother, Mrs. Morgan, who were leaving to make their home in Del Rio.

The porch of the home is a beautiful place for a social gathering with its border of queen's crown in full bloom, above on the trellis and on the floor large gardeners of sword and lace ferns at places of appointment interwoven with wicker baskets of pink cannas. Wall vases and baskets held pink roses and verbenas. Seats were arranged for sixteen neighbors and close friends of the honorees. Punch was served throughout the afternoon by Miss Louise Johnson from a large punch bowl embanked with queen's crown and ferns. Several spirited contests were enjoyed and at the conclusion of which molded cream and angel squares were served. Later Mrs. Morgan and Mrs. Bradford were presented with a tray filled with dainty handkerchiefs, gifts from the guests. Miss Marie Lothsheutz assisted Mrs. Terry and Mrs. McDermott in serving. Those enjoying this happy affair were Mesdames W. H. Henley, Dow Eplen, Ray Burke, M. M. Johnson, Eates, Frank Monroe, Key, Roy Griffith, Trent Newton, Robert Wiley, Rodesney, Pollard, A. S. Epperson Miss Lothsheutz and the hostesses.

CELEBRATION PLANNED FOR BRIDGE OPENING

$190,000 STRUCTURE ON HIGHWAY 43 TO BE OPENED TO TRAFFIC IN NOVEMBER

The opening to traffic of the new $190,000 steel and concrete bridge over the Brazos river on Highway No. 43 is to be celebrated with a barbecue and picnic some time in November, according to plans laid at a meeting of representative citizens of Milam and Robertson counties, held at Hearne Tuesday night of this week.

Rockdale was represented at the meeting by a delegation of about 20 citizens headed by Mayor H. C. Meyer, City Attorney E. A. Camp and Alderman M. N. Stricker. Five cars carried the Rockdale delegation down to the new bridge, where it was met by Hearne citizens in cars and transported the remaining five miles into Hearne.

The meeting was called by Dr. H. W. Cummings, president of the Hearne Chamber of Commerce, and representatives were present from Hearne, Rockdale and Franklin, with admitted proxies from other towns along the route of Highway 43.

Dr. Cummings presided at the session, and stated the object of the meeting. The first thing decided upon was that a celebration of the bridge opening should be had, this decision being unanimous. A full discussion of the matter, relating to plans and finance, was had, after which a permanent organization was effected, with the following committee to have charge of the celebration.

Dr. H. W. Cummings, Hearne, general chairman.
Hearne—J. W. Horleck and R. W. Marshall.

Rockdale—H. C. Meyer and M. N. Stricker.
Franklin—H. N. Bush and W. L. Marit.

Milano—J. D. Peoples Jr.
Gause—Allen Varner.
Thorndale—O. D. Graham.
Cameron—T. S. Henderson Sr.
Taylor—S. M. Patterson.
Austin—Will E. Long.
Marquez—Dr. Carrington.
Calvert—Guy Townsend.

The chairman was authorized to appoint all necessary committees, including program, finance, grounds, concessions, traffic, police, speakers, barbecue, etc.

A special committee of Hearne citizens was authorized to see that the five-mile strip of unimproved road between the bridge and Hearne should be put in good condition for through traffic in time for the Texas-A. & M. football game to be held at College Station on Thanksgiving Day.

The Brazos bridge is a mammoth structure said to be the best highway bridge in Texas. The bridge proper has been completed for some time, and the contractors are now building the trestle approach on the Robertson county side, while the grading contractors are moving in now and preparing to throw up the grade on the same side. The new road will be an approximately straight shoot from the bridge into Hearne.

The exact date of the celebration cannot yet be determined, but the contractors say they will have the Robertson county approach completed early in November, and the celebration will be staged immediately after that date.

The plans laid at the meeting Tuesday night do not provide for a statewide affair, but for a celebration at which the people of Milam and Robertson counties may get together, get acquainted and show their appreciation of and satisfaction over the completion of a project which has been dear to their hearts for the past nine years.

Texas Wool and Mohair

Sheep and goat raisers of Texas see prosperous times just ahead. Their flocks are in splendid condition. Shearing is well under way, and the dry season has improved the quality of the fleece. Prices are considered fairly good, and there is a prospect of an advance along with the advance in cotton prices. The flocks of both sheep and goats are being increased and improved, many registered rams and billies having been brought in recently from other states. Good prices are being received for the stock that is being sold for slaughter. Most of the farms of Texas have room for at least small flocks of sheep or goats that can be cared for at small expense and that would yield a nice profit.

Famous for Berries

Lindale, in Smith county, has proven that it pays a community to specialize in some one crop which it can produce to best advantage, but to diversify with other crops that can be grown. Lindale has become famous for its blackberries, 5,000 acres of land around the town being devoted to that crop and some 300 farmers and hosts of berry pickers sharing in the dividends that never entirely fail. Four thousand men, women and children are employed for six or eight weeks. Three canneries, with a combined capacity of 200,000 cans daily are kept busy during the season. At other seasons these can sweet potatoes, preserves, jellies, beef and other farm products. These are sold largely over Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Iowa and West Texas, Abilene being the largest wholesale distributing point. An average of 160 cars of berries are shipped from Lindale annually and they bring in about $600,000 a year. Lindale is prosperous.

Satterwhite on Self-Government

Lee Satterwhite, the Panhandle statesman, presided recently at a conference in Washington of members of legislatures from 35 states, which he called to discuss centralization of governmental powers, repeal of the Federal estate tax and other taxation problems as related to Federal and State governments. In his opening address Mr. Satterwhite said there is need for "restoration of self-government" through a check upon centralization of power in the Federal Government. Quite true, and if Mr. Satterwhite will get his ear close to the ground he will find that there is in Texas somewhat the same feeling as to the encroachment of State government upon county and local affairs.

San Angelo Junior College

San Angelo has let a contract for $250,000 for a building in which to conduct a municipal junior college. The junior college is intended to provide freshmen and sophomore instruction for students of the city and county. Educators are finding it cheaper and better to have young students take this work at home and much safer for immature students to be at home with their parents. At the age at which the high schools graduate boys and girls the home influence is very much needed. In the smaller schools, the instruction is more personal than it can be in the larger schools and therefore better adapted to the youthful mind. For these reasons junior colleges are becoming popular.

Making An Education Possible

Southwestern University has arranged to give a group of orphans a chance for a college education by starting a small farm near the University on which the boys may earn their way by the sale of milk, eggs, chickens and other small-farm products to the University, the boys earning for the farm and doing the work under the supervision of a competent superintendent. This excellent idea is likely to grow. Why can't any college that is really anxious to help boys and girls secure an education establish not merely one, but several farms nearby, on which earnest students may work to pay for their education? Doubtless there are a few well-to-do landowners near every school who would be glad to allow the use of land on which reserving boys and girls could work part of their time in their effort to get an education.

Odessa's Growth

The recent growth of Odessa, in Ector county, is shown in the statement that in line with the installation of a $145,000 waterworks and sewer system, the city has motorized its fire equipment at a cost of some $10,000. The explanation of this is that this was needed "to protect local property, including approximately $8,000,000 in new business and industrial projects launched here during the last year." Can any other town of like size in Texas point to a greater year's growth?

Two Modern Hotels

Pyote, Ward County, is building two modern hotels of fifty rooms each, and is expecting to be able to take care of the large number of prospectors and visitors being attracted to that section. It is a mighty poor Texas town that is satisfied to get along now with poor hotels and Pyote doesn't want to be in that class.

Texas Lignite Being Used

Bastrop and Rockdale lignite mines are to supply the city of Austin with 45,000 tons of lignite during the next year under a contract recently made. Dean Taylor of the University of Texas has made the statement that there is enough lignite under the ground in Texas to supply the State with all the cheap power it can use for an almost unlimited time. All that is needed to realize on this great volume of stored wealth is to encourage its fullest development.

Cream Station Profitable

The News at Groveton says that the cream station established there by the Trinity Chamber of Commerce to take care of the surplus cream of Trinity county farmers, although in operation only a few months, is bringing the farmers a lot of extra money and that the skim milk fed to pigs and poultry is almost as valuable as the cream sold. Successfully conducted cream stations usually result in a short while the building of creameries.

In Much Accord

The Northwest Texas Press Association has met in its 38th annual session and elected George English of Stamford, president; C. C. Hydson of Iowa Park, vice-president; and R. H. Nichols of Vernon, secretary-treasurer; Geo. T. Spears, Jr., of Graham and Grady Roberts of Chillicothe were made executive committeemen. The elections were by acclamation and unanimous, electors and electees all being happy. This is perhaps the strongest sectional press association in this country, doubtless for the reason that it is always headed by able newspaper men.

Christian Church In Picnic Here Honors Mr. and Mrs. Bradford

The ladies of the Christian church did not meet in regular meeting Monday due to the fact that they were planning a picnic as a farewell token from the church to Mr. and Mrs. Bradford and Mrs. Morgan who are leaving shortly for Del Rio.

The picnic was held in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Wallace Jones. The tables were arranged in a long line across the living room and baskets and vases of early fall flowers were placed at regular intervals making a delightful place for the picnic spread which consisted of every good thing to eat. After lunch the following toasts were given: Mrs. Dow Eplen to Mr. and Mrs. Bradford as members of the Builders Class. Mr. G. C. Walters to Mr. and Mrs. Bradford as their teacher. Mr. Eugene Wade, to Mrs. Morgan as member of the Bible Class. Mr. Dow Eplen to Mr. Bradford from the church board. Mr. Ray Burke to Mr. Bradford as a citizen. Miss Annie Woolley to Mrs. Bradford from the ladies of the church. Mrs. Guy Slocomb in very chosen words presented Mr. and Mrs. Bradford with a mahogany serving tray as a gift from the entire church. At the close of the evening appropriate songs and prayers were used as a farewell to these faithful and loyal members of the church.

Negro Wrecks Auto And Threatens Driver

O. H. Cross, owner of the Watt farm near Cameron narrowly escaped being attacked by a drunken negro Monday while on his way to Cameron. The negro driving a large car and thought to have been under the influence of liquor drove his car into the machine of Mr. Cross and wrecked it and injury was narrowly averted. After the accident Mr. Cross says the negro showed signs of drinking heavily and began to curse and after adressing him in an insulting way got a gun from his car and threatened him. The negro, however reentered his machine and drove away. Mr. Cross having no means of defense could not detain the drunk.

Officers here and at Waco were notified and the car number was given. Reports here show that the car was seen in Dallas and may be a car from Coleman, Texas. Mr. Cross is one of the outstanding farmers of Texas and recently took an active part in the agitation for a reduced cotton acreage. He has been urged by many to make the race for governor in 1928.

Episcopal Auxiliary

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Episcopal church met last Monday with Mrs. R. P. Jeter.

Responses to the roll call gave news of outstanding events in church life during the past summer.

After the transaction of business, including a report from the Federation representative, definite plans for the study and work program of the coming year were discussed.

Mrs. R. P. Jeter was elected representative from Cameron to the Fall Conference to be held in Houston, September 27.

CASH AND SELF SERVE STORE

Has Brought Economy and Better Living to the Family Table

Since I opened my Cash and Self Serve Store I have found that my efforts to save my customers money and at the same time give them better service and better foods, has been appreciated beyond my expectations and this is evidenced by the increasing number who come here for their Groceries.

The Cash and Self Serve Store is the greatest aid to better living in the history of Cameron Grocery Business.

Always a Giver of Values--Now more than ever the Food Economy Center for Milam County.

To go over this big stock and enumerate by giving detailed prices on the hundreds of food items would require too much time and space. Those who have visited this big Cash and Self Serve Store know what savings are to be had and how easy it is to buy groceries. Those who have not visited this store have a big surprise coming. They, too, will know the savings that others are realizing each day. From front to rear and from side wall to side wall, the bright new groceries are stacked and all marked to the lowest possible level which only a Cash and Self Serve Store can give. This store is the finest example of money saving on high grade groceries that modern merchandising has decreed. What others are doing you may do—Save and Save big.

Most people work hard for their money. They want to buy and buy at the most advantageous prices to be had and we have brought about this opportunity. The Dobbins store has been a landmark for money saving prices on food for many years. This store now follows with greater savings in prices on food stuff, making it possible for families everywhere to live better at less cost and from their earnings be able to put money aside for other things. What a boost for economy. Think of literally saving hundreds of dollars each year on your grocery bills. You realize how much when you buy here for every item you carry away is reduced. Just figure for yourselves and nothing will keep you from cashing in on these great values.

A convenient store for buying. Parking space at the curb on both side and front. Courteous and helpful, appreciative clerks wait to serve you. Take your basket and pass thru the aisles and select what you want. Know the thrill and pleasure of personal selection of what you eat. Nothing could be more pleasing. And when the bill is figured you have money left for other things.

3 Million Miles of Testing Has Proven Chevrolet Durability

Three million miles of testing. In that sensational record lies a new explanation for the phenomenal success of the Chevrolet Motor Company, which has consistently shattered all previous high marks for the manufacture and sale of gear shift cars every month so far this year. Three years ago this month Chevrolet first began using the facilities of the great General Motors Proving Grounds at Milford, Michigan, to develop and perfect its product, and in that time three million miles have been piled up by Chevrolet test cars, it was announced today by O. E. Hunt, chief engineer of the Chevrolet Motor Company. "An average of twelve Chevrolet test cars are constantly on view at the Proving Grounds, plying the steep inclines, ploughing through the deep sand or mud roads, testing speed and endurance on the track, or undergoing any one of many severe trials that a car is put through at this veritable 'sweat shop' for automobiles," explained Mr. Hunt. "Each test car is driven about three months and in that time totals from 30,000 to 50,000 miles. While many cars are driven farther, the average is probably is not higher because that distance is sufficient to prove any new mechanical feature we may have under observation, or to reveal any fault that may require correction.

"After a car attains this mileage it is taken to our Experimental Laboratory and there dismantled under the supervision of skilled engineers. Every part is tested and inspected, all evidences of wear are noted, and if any detail is not as it should be, we get to work immediately developing a new part or process to replace the old. The new feature is then built into an entirely new car—or three new cars if the operation is vital—and this car in turn goes through the rigid rites of the Proving Grounds and then to the Laboratory. This cycle continues until we have arrived at the proper solution of every problem. "A competent field staff handles the cars at the Proving Grounds, and practically every day two or more engineers from my department go to Milford to check up on the work there, note the condition of the test cars, drive them, and see that all operations adhere rigidly to instructions. "Since September, 1924, when we first started using the Proving Grounds, we have put an average of one million miles a year on the test cars there.

"Every car at the Proving Grounds undergoes all the tests that any car would be called on to perform in normal driving, as well as many 'torture' tests designed to bring out any fault that might develop at the hands of an inexperienced or careless driver. Each test car is subjected to such abuses as riding the clutch, constant tampering on the brake, racing a cold motor, straining the engine in high gear, etc., not because this is done by the majority of motorists, but that so the car will stand up under the severest treatment. "Despite this rigorous service, the test cars still have many thousands of miles under their hoods when we retire them. We take them in at 30,000 to 50,000 miles simply because at that distance any faults will have developed, and further running would be a waste of time.

"That the public recognizes the tremendous importance of the experimental work that precedes the offering of any new Chevrolet feature is amply proven by our extraordinary production and sales records."

Brownwood Sheriff Is Fatally Wounded

Brownwood, Tex., Sept. 19.—Reports reaching here tonight were that Fred White of Brownwood, sheriff of Brown county, had been shot and fatally wounded at May, a town 20 miles north of here. About 100 men left here in automobiles. Reports about the shooting were vague. It was said to have occurred this afternoon when the sheriff and two deputies were after automobile thieves.

A Child's Laxative which Mothers Can Rely On

To Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, it seemed cruel that so many constipated infants and children had to be kept "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all children's little ills, he constantly advised mothers to give only a harmless laxative which would help to establish natural bowel "regularity."

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin mothers have a regulating laxative which they can depend upon whenever a child is constipated, bilious, feverish or sick from a cold, indigestion or sour stomach. All children love its pleasant taste. Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine or write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE and just see for yourself how perfectly it cleanses and regulates the bowels of infants and children.

What makes this the Greatest Sale in the History of this Store? Here are the facts: As stated above we have prospered too heavily of merchandise, but there is another reason more startling than this fact. Prosperity is here and merchandise is advancing every day. Higher prices for cotton makes higher priced goods. You well know. Now in the face of the advancing prices of merchandise we are putting you to the test. Be able to buy more goods. But would this be right? This store has many friends and we are giving them the advantage and at the same time raise for ourselves some much needed cash. We have no desire to sell them on the advantages of an increasing market. This is unusual for had to pay in excess of values. Now they are to get these goods far below cost on account of the rapid advance in the price of merchandise. Don't let this advantage slip by. You have worked hard for your money and you are entitled to something in return for it. We are going to give it to you in this remarkable event.

PARIS AGAIN THRILLED BY MARCHING AMERICANS

FRENCH PEOPLE GIVE VETERANS OF LEGION BIG WELCOME

Paris, Sept. 19.—Fourteen thousand members of the American Legion who fought for France, and many of their women folk marched today in a great parade under the Arc de Triomphe and to the unknown soldier grave. It was the third time in French history that the Arc of Triomphe has been opened to a foreign people.

The flowers were laid in reverence around a fragrant wall around the unknown soldier's grave.

The procession of Americans, returning in peace to the streets where they had once marched in the grim days of war, started from the Place d'Iena through the Arc de Triomphe and then down the Champs Elysees to the Place de la Concorde where the marchers were reviewed by France's two greatest soldiers, Marshals Foch and Joffre and America's war leader, Gen. John J. Pershing.

The veterans' marching order was splendid, bringing marked approval from the immense crowd, happy and enthusiastic, which lined Paris, beautiful avenues.

The crowds were late in gathering to see the legion parade, because of rainy and threatening weather, but as the parade proceeded on its way, the weather improved and roofs, sidewalks and every available point of vantage were occupied.

The youthful appearance of the American war veterans appealed strongly to the French population. "They don't seem to have grown a bit older," was the comment heard several times.

The American Legion auxiliary unit—the legionnaires women folk—also came in for many cheers.

Palais du Trocadero, Paris Sept. 19.—With a tremendous roar of applause and cheers from the 4,000 delegates for President Doumergue, Marshal Foch, General Pershing and National Commander Howard P. Savage, the ninth convention of the American Legion was opened at 9:20 o'clock this morning in the famous Trocadero palace.

President Doumergue, head of the French republic, was the guest of honor. Members of the cabinet, senators, deputies and leaders in the military, naval and diplomatic life of France occupied the platform.

Everywhere there was a spirit of enthusiasm. Huge reflectors threw their light on the gathering, remarkable for its color. The "Marseillaise" and the "Star-Spangled Banner," shared honors as played by various bands, while Marshal Foch, sitting at General Pershing's left, bowed his appreciation of the spontaneous outburst which greeted his appearance.

The business portion of the opening session was exceedingly brief. A few committee reports were hastily adopted and orders were given the committee chairman for the afternoon's parade.

Suddenly on a sign from Commander Savage, the vast assemblage arose and the strains of "There Is No Death" throbbed through the building. Then came a moment's silence in memory of America's war dead.

The great auditorium of the historic Trocadero had been profusely decorated with American and French flags and pennants, entwined. The platform was a picture in crimson and gold, with the national, departmental and state banners of the legion forming a background.

A message from President Coolidge to the legionnaires, which arrived by wireless an hour before the convention opened, was read and greeted with thunderous applause.

When Louis Marlin, the French minister of pensions, was introduced someone in the gallery shouted, "Long Live Sacco and Vanzetti." The outburst sounded very lonely and was quickly drowned in cheers while the disturbed was ejected. The incident, enthusiasm of the meeting, rather instead of causing a tiff in the increased it.

Local Highway To Get Hard Surface

Hard surfacing will be given to 200 miles of State highway soon, under maintenance contracts awarded by the Highway Commission, at Austin, totaling nearly $500,000. The inverted penetration process will be used, consisting of asphalt and crushed rock. Among the contracts were the following in Central Texas.

Williamson: Haden & Austin, $15,730 on 8.1 miles of highway No. 2-B from one mile west of Hutto and from Granger south 2.9 miles.

Milam: Haden & Austin, $13,243 on 7.2 miles of highway No. 36 from Cameron west.

Robertson: Brown & Root, $16,446 on 9.7 miles of highway No. 43 from Hearne northeast toward Franklin.

The Milam county contract is for the new highway extending from Cameron to Ad Hail.

This road will be topped with 1-2 gallon asphalt oil to the square yard and crushed limestone.

This is the same topping used on the Cameron to Burlington highway and on the Little River road leading from Cameron towards the new bridge.

World Series to Begin October 4

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 19.—Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, baseball commissioner, tonight sent word to the officials of the New York Yankees, American league pennant winners, and the four contending teams for the National league flag to meet him here next Friday morning to arrange for the world series.

The National league teams invited to the conference were the Pirates, Giants, Cardinals and Cubs.

Landis intimated that the series would open probably on Tuesday, Oct. 4th.

Matthew Kimes Sentenced To Die

Okmulgee, Ok., Sept. 19.—Matthew Kimes, 21 years old, youthful Oklahoma outlaw was sentenced to die in the electric chair by a District Court jury here today for complicity in the bank robbery and the killing of Police Chief W. J. McAnally in Beggs, Ok., last May 18.

The jury reported at 10 a. m., after having the case since 9:53 o'clock Saturday night. Kimes, when learning of the verdict, appeared nonchalant.

One of his guards, leading him back to the jail, remarked:

"Well, Matt, you can't beat me in a game of pitch tonight."

"The hell I can't," the young bandit replied. "I haven't got anything else to think about now."

How Doctors Treat Colds and the Flu

To break up a cold overnight or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza, sore throat or tonsillitis, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the purified and refined calomel compound tablet that gives you the effects of calomel and salts combined, without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calotabs at bedtime with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please—no danger.

Fastest Four in America Proves Its Claim to Title

Dodge Averages 67.35 miles per hour in Beating All Other Fours in Atlantic City A. A. A. Race

The Atlantic City (N.J.) Speedway Association, without Dodge Brothers instigation or knowledge, bought a Dodge Brothers Four and entered it in a Labor Day race for four cylinder stock cars. Four cars of other makes also competed. All were strictly stock cars as required by the rules of the association.

The race was for 25 miles—to determine which was "The Fastest Four in America."

The Dodge won.

Its average speed for the entire race, from a standing start, was 67.35 miles per hour (officially timed by A. A. A.).

Generous confirmation, to say the least, of the modest claim of "Mile-a-minute Performance!"

Even more remarkable than the speed, however, is the fact that the car had been driven only 10 days and yet was able to withstand this difficult test without once stopping.

Thus the race not only offers conclusive proof of the Dodge's superiority in speed, but stands also as a glowing tribute to the rugged materials and excellent workmanship that go to make it—America's Fastest and Finest Four!

Too Often This Warns of Sluggish Kidney Action.

LAME? Stiff? Achy? Sure your kidneys are working right? Sluggish kidneys allow waste poisons to remain in the blood and are apt to make one languid, tired and achy, with often dull headaches, dizziness and nagging backache. That the kidneys are not acting right is often shown by scanty or burning secretions. If you have reason to believe your kidneys are acting sluggishly, use Doan's Pills. Doan's stimulate the kidneys and thus assist in eliminating waste impurities. Users everywhere endorse Doan's. Ask your neighbor!

Tribute To Dr. Greer

sorrow of the death of Dr. W. W. Greer at Austin. The death of Dr. Greer indeed brings genuine grief to many who knew him. In 1917 I came to Cameron. I was then deputy organizer for the W. O. W. for Arizona, New Mexico and Texas. Dr. Greer examined all the candidates for Alamo Lodge No. 3281. Then I went to Sartin, Texas and Dr. Greer went with me to examine the candidates.

That day at lunch the Mexicans asked me to inquire of Dr. Greer whether he would eat beans, eggs and terrillas for lunch, and he said, yes, he would eat whatever they would eat. Then they told me to tell him to come to the table and eat his dinner. The tears rolled the doctor's eyes and he said to me: "Are not all going to eat?" I said yes, but they think that you would not like to eat with them. He wiped his tears and told me to tell them: "I am no better, let us all eat."

We sat at the table and the doctor led in prayer, and when dinner was over, they told me that the doctor must be a mighty good man. They said they had never heard a man give thanks before he ate dinner. Then I said to them that God commands that we give thanks, and commands that we love one another and the manifestation was in his tears how he loves you all.

In 1918 one of my brothers came to see me and he became very ill with rapture and I called Dr. Greer. Quickly he came and found my brother in terrible pain. He placed him under the influence of chloroform and worked him. He then left and went to a telephone to ask that my brother be taken with him but could do nothing for me to the hospital for an operation, but as he left the house I asked the Lord to relieve him of his pain, take his life or give him health, that His will be done. Instantly my brother called and said: "I am alright." Then I went in to see. I then went to tell Dr. Greer that my brother had recovered. The doctor did not believe it but said let us go and see. We went and found him alright.

He is at rest, but his labors and deeds will be remembered by all who knew him.

A Friend.

Yoe High History Club

The Yoe High History Club held an important business meeting last Thursday evening, September 16th at the Ada Henderson School.

This club of high school members was founded last year under the supervision of a most capable leader, Miss Mary Lake Henderson and has done much toward the promotion of the study of history. The name chosen for the club is "The Yoe High History Club." Motto, "A spot of local history is like an inn on a highway." Colors, Blue and Gold. Flower, Bluebonnet.

In order to become recognized as a member of the club the students are required to make a total of fourteen grade points. The club is well organized and sponsored, having as its sponsors, the Cameron History Club and Mrs. Sam Hefley.

The club intends to specialize on local history this year and in so doing we expect to gain quite a lot of pleasure as well as interesting and beneficial history knowledge.

Last year the club paid a visit to Austin, an account of which appeared some time ago in this paper.

The club wishes to extend to all a hearty invitation to the town people to attend some of its meetings.

The first party of the year for the Senior Class was in the home of Judge and Mrs. John Watson last Friday night when their son, Paul, president of the class for this year entertained. The rooms of the home and the porch were profused, decorated in streamers of blue and white, also flowers in chosen colors were used. The diversions for the evening were dancing, bridge, forty-two and strolling. During the evening punch was served. There are sixty pupils in the graduation class and most of them were present. The following high school teachers were present: Miss Jolly Blanche Pitts, sponsor for the class, Misses Gray, Taylor and Goddard.

If Kidneys and Bladder Bother

Take Salts to flush Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast; continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia water drink, which often quickly relieves bladder irritation.

FINAL CHECK MADE AMENDMENT VOTE

OFFICIAL FIGURES BEAR OUT
7 TO 1 BALLOT AGAINST
FOUR CHANGES

Austin, Texas, Sept.—One of the most apathetic and yet extremely one-sided, elections Texas ever had is reflected in official figures on the August 1 pollings at which the four proposed constitutional amendments were beaten.

Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, secretary of state, gave out the complete figures today for each of the 188 counties reporting returns, showing a total of about 80,000 votes cast, with a general average of about 7 to 1 against all the amendments. The tax amendment suffered the worst defeat.

Among the 64 counties failing to report returns are Harris and Wichita in which Houston and Wichita Falls, respectively are located.

Some interesting and bizarre comparisons are offered in the county-by-county figures. Cass county against all amendments by the general average of about 41 or 42 to 1, while Hidalgo carried them all, three of them better than 2 to 1.

Cameron county carried the judiciary and fee amendments, while El Paso carried the judiciary, fee and salary propositions, all by a good majority.

Hidalgo and Cameron counties, in the progressive Rio Grande valley section, were remitted their state taxes by vote of the legislature several years ago because of floods.

Williamson, home county of Dan Moody, defeated all amendments at an average of about 5 to 1. It is also the home county of Senator A. E. Wood and Representative Claude Teer, administration floor leaders in the legislature.

The state election board, composed of Governor Dan Moody, Mrs. McCallum, and Attorney General Claude Pollard, got together last Saturday, 40 days after the election, as required by law, opened the sealed returns, counted them and this is what they got.

Amendment to revise the judiciary system: For 10,830; against 69,754.

Amendment to separate the objects of taxation: For 7,557; against 70,983.

Amendment to abolish the fee system of paying county officers: For 8,783; against 68,626.

Amendment to raise the present constitutional limitation on salaries of the governor, state officers and legislators: For 8,645; against 70,276.

Marvel Well Bath Stock Is Placed On Market

M. K. Culver and associates, incorporators of the Thorndale Marvel Well Baths placed a block of the stock on the market on Monday of this week and offering it to the public in shares of $100 par value, the stock is non-assessable. An advertisement of the stock being offered to the public appeared in the last issue of the Champion and while the stock was only placed on the market Monday, a number of local people have already made purchases, indicating that they consider it has a future.

An appealing feature of the enterprise is that it is located on one of the most important east and west highways known as highway No. 43, and with the completion of the small strip of road between Thorndale and Rockdale, the popularity of the baths should spread fast. The contract for the unfinished strip of road is expected to be let within the next few months, however, the bids have not been advertised for as yet.—Thorndale Champion.

Ellison Ridge School Buys Auto School Bus

The people of the Ellison Ridge community have purchased a large Chevrolet truck fitted up with upholstered seats with which the high school classes of the Ellison Ridge school will be transported to the Thorndale high school. The large truck will accommodate several students and each morning the truck will make a circle from Ed Garner's home, for instance, through the community to the home of Lige Cast, thence to M. M. Camp's home, continuing to W. T. Johnson's and Mr. McMillan's home, and from there into Thorndale. It will make the trip in the evening taking a back track route. The road to be traveled by the truck will be repaired and kept in as good condition as possible and it is believed the plan will work to mutual advantage to the people of Ellison Ridge and Thorndale alike.—Thorndale Champion.

ROCKDALE GRID TEAM GIVES MUCH PROMISE

EXPECTS TO HAVE BEST BALANCED SQUAD IN SEVERAL SEASONS AT R. H. S.

I. C. Evans, coach at Rockdale high school, states that he is well pleased with the prospects for a football team this year. Around a nucleus of ten letter men from last year the coach will build a team for 1927 which promises to be the best trained, most versatile and best balanced squad that Rockdale high has put out for several seasons.

The coach has the situation well in hand and is showing no favoritism in placing each man in the position where he feels that the best results may be accomplished.

The squad is working hard each afternoon and in the main is keeping training rules. Interest was high this week when signal practice was started, bringing the first real thrill of football to the members of the squad.

Many shifts have been made in positions from last year and by the time the coach gets through "the weeding process" Rockdale high will present a formidable front that will be hard to penetrate.

The old men of last year who have returned and answered to the call of the whistle are as follows: Newton Daniels (captain), Louis Rinn, Johnny Richards, Herbert Lightfoot, L. C. Franklin, Willie Brown, Emory Pickens, Ches. Newton, Shelby Smith and Vernon Dymke. Some of the most promising new material at this writing are the Makowski brothers, Warren Bunting, Marion Bodiford, Otis Currey, Rodney Montague and Leroy Hillyer. Other new material is in evidence and no one knows just now who will be chosen for the first team.

At present all negotiations have been called off with Giddings and new opponents are being sought. Rogers, Holland and Thorndale are probable opponents for the opening clash at Rockdale, Friday, September 30.

"We appreciate the interest and enthusiasm of the town people," Coach Evans said, "and we promise our best efforts to put out a team that will merit your support, pride and confidence."—Rockdale Reporter.

Moody Cancels Date at Athens Because Ferguson to Speak

Athens, Texas, Sept. 16.—Governor Dan Moody has asked that he be relieved of his engagement to open the East Texas Cotton Palace here next Monday and the board of directors unanimously granted the request at the meeting today.
